

Margaret Cote, Anihšināpē (Saulteaux) Elder
Cote First Nation

Interview Synopsis

Start time	End time	Topic
00:00	06:04	How did People live before treaty signing? How were People governed before treaty signing? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Hereditary Chiefs - Women's roles in preparing leaders
06:05	07:43	Traditional governance values today compared to elected Band governments
07:44	14:32	Changes that occurred with treaty signing <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Changes in means of survival - Loss of social ways - Loss of language - Loss of religious and spiritual beliefs - Loss of oral tradition, passing stories, morals, values onto the next generation - Impact of residential schools on language
14:33	16:19	How women's roles changed after treaty signing How loss of language among leaders has affected access to knowledge <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - From Elders, women and men - From knowledge holders
16:20	18:53	How people made a livelihood before treaties <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Living on the land
18:54	20:17	What is the understanding about the Treaty promise for education and for health?
20:18	24:06	What teachings will help leaders today? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - How should these teachings be taught?
24:07	27:53	Living a traditional life on the land – hunting, fishing trapping, berry picking, medicine picking <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - “Every form of livelihood came from the land” before treaty signing - How men's and women's roles have changed in providing for their families after treaty signing
27:54	30:15	What would you like young people to know in terms of leadership? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Traditional values and beliefs - Learn language - Not going back to living in teepees - Importance of social structures and spiritual practices
30:16	32:10	How is 'Kinship' important when it comes to the language? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Importance of language - Customs surrounding kinship with relatives - Kinship with the Land
32:11	34:59	The importance of 'Kinship' terms and values in leadership <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Perspectives on the word "Chief"